

Step 1. I'm insured

If you are insured and pursuing the other party, the easiest option to take is to make a claim on your insurance. However there are some circumstances where it makes sense to not make a claim and pursue the at-fault party. For further information on these circumstances click on the "I'm insured, should I claim?" button. If you have a question about your insurance such as "How do I claim?" or "Do I have to pay my excess" etc, click on the "I have a question about my insurance" button below. And if you have third party insurance and pursuing the other party under your Uninsured Motorist Extension, click on that button below.
